AIC A001/20 - Introduction of New AIC system

1. Introduction:

Due to the continuous amendment of Libya Civil Aviation Regulations and the introduction of new Civil Aviation Publications to meet different needs of relevant areas of aviation activities in the State. Therefore, new guidance materials specialised in different areas were needed to cover the evolvement of new aviation activities. This AIC sets the scope of future AICs and areas concerned.

2. Scope of AICs:

AIC shall be issued in the following cases:

- a) forecasts of important changes in the air navigation procedures, services and facilities provided;
- b) forecasts of implementation of new navigational systems;
- c) effect of certain weather phenomena on aircraft operations;
- d) reference to the requirements of, and publication of changes in, national legislation;
- e) actual or planned availability of new or revised editions of aeronautical charts;
- f) carriage of communication equipment;
- g) explanatory information relating to noise abatement;

- h) changes in NOTAM series or distribution, new editions of AIP or major changes in their contents, coverage or format;
- i) other information of a similar nature.

3. Statue of Present AICs:

LYCAA has conducted a full review of the existing AIC and the following action shall be taken:

- a) A new AIC shall be issued to list the effective AICs, and all other AICs not listed shall be considered cancelled
- b) AICs shall be issued in areas listed in (2) above, other department shall issue their relevant publication.

4. Effectivity

This AIC shall be effective from the date of publication.
